Dramatic jailbreak. It took this gangster only minutes to pull off a daring escape. And it happened right in front of astonished onlookers. This morning, he is on the run and police are on high alert. NBC's Lucy Kefinof has the details for us, Lucy, good morning. Hey, guys, good morning, yet, this is a story straight out of Hollywood. This morning, a manhunt is intensifying for a notorious French gangster.

A guy who was once in France's most wanted list. And he busted out a prison in broad daylight yesterday. His getaway ride, a helicopter! It's a scene straight out of a big screen blockbuster. A brazen jailbreak from a French prison. And it was caught on camera by an inmate as one of France's most notorious gangster made his escape, hitching a ride on a hijacked helicopter at onlookers' cheer.

46 year old Redoine Faid was reportedly in the visitor's room meeting one of his brothers when heavily armed gunman landed a chopper in the prison yard, busting in and whisking him out. His prison sentence for murder 25 years. The daring escape over in just minutes. Authorities say the man hijacked the helicopter from a nearby flight school, forcing the pilot to go to prison and then fly them 40 miles north. Faid and his accomplices then drove off in this black getaway car which was later found abandoned at a shopping center.

Jailbreak by helicopter may seem shocking, but it's happened before. This dramatic video from 2013 shows a chopper landing on a prison roof in Canada. The inmates dangling to the freedom of a nearby getaway car. This also wasn't Faid's first daring escape. 5 years ago, he used dynamite hidden in tissue packs to blast his way out of a different prison. Taking 4 guards hostage in getting away, only to be recaptured a few weeks later.

He spent much of his adult in and out of prison. But found a measure of fame after writing a book about his life of crime. Even going on a medio tour in 2010. If his escape sound like the stuff of movies, that's because Faïd says, blockbusters like Scarface and Heat have inspired his criminal career. And with nearly 30,000 police officers on the convicted murderers trail, the heat is on. This morning, source tells NBC news, this was a very well-planned operation at every stage. The pilot was taken against his will, beaten up, but then, released. He is now in the hospital. And French investigators, Willie and Savannah, now believe accomplices may have used drones to scout out this prison months before the escape. The men are now on the run, believed to be armed and dangerous. Guys. Unbelievable. I could see this something out of a movie. Thank you very much.
